1. The first of these is the fact that the majority of the population of the United States is now living in urban areas. This is a result of the process of urbanization, which has been going on since the beginning of the 20th century. The process of urbanization is the movement of people from rural areas to urban areas. This is done for a variety of reasons, including the search for better living conditions, the desire for education, and the need for employment. The process of urbanization has led to the growth of large cities and the decline of small towns. This has had a significant impact on the way we live and work. The majority of the population now lives in cities, which are often crowded and expensive. This has led to the development of new housing and transportation systems. The process of urbanization has also led to the growth of the service sector of the economy. This is the sector of the economy that provides services to other businesses and to the general public. This sector has become the largest part of the economy in many countries. The process of urbanization has also led to the growth of the manufacturing sector of the economy. This is the sector of the economy that produces goods. This sector has also become a major part of the economy in many countries. The process of urbanization has led to the growth of the economy as a whole. This is because the majority of the population now lives in urban areas, which are the centers of economic activity.
