4. Conclusions—The results of this study suggest that the use of a single, standardized, and validated questionnaire is a feasible and reliable method for assessing the prevalence of occupational asthma in a large, multi-center study. The prevalence of occupational asthma was found to be 1.1% in the general population of the study, which is in line with the results of other studies. The results also suggest that the use of a single, standardized, and validated questionnaire is a feasible and reliable method for assessing the prevalence of occupational asthma in a large, multi-center study.
